How to solve Sudoku

Fill every empty square with a digit so that each row, each column and each outlined box contains every digit exactly once.

A 9×9 grid uses the digits 1 to 9 in 3×3 boxes.

Every puzzle has exactly one solution. Easy and Medium puzzles need only two ideas: a square where just one digit fits, or a digit that fits in just one square of a row, column or box.

Hard puzzles also need pencil marks: write the possible digits small in each square and look for pairs and for digits locked into one row or column of a box. Expert puzzles go further still.
